SOUTHEASTERN REPTILE CONSERVATION
Native reptile and amphibian rehabilitation | Norfolk, Virginia

MEET OUR AMBASSADOR

Hi, I'm Sparrow.

I dig it here.

Sparrow

SPECIES
Three-toed box turtle
Terrapene triunguis

NAMED FOR
Three back toes
Usually three on each back foot

LIFESPAN
40 to 60 years
Some reach 100

DIET
Omnivore
Worms, insects, berries, mushrooms

FUN FACT
The three-toed box turtle is Missouri's official state reptile.

NATIVE RANGE
Woodlands and grasslands of the south-central United States. Not Virginia.

Sparrow's story

Sparrow was surrendered to our veterinarian with a prolapse after poor care from a previous owner. We believe she was originally acquired through the pet trade. Three-toed box turtles are not native to Virginia, so she cannot be released here.

WHAT SPARROW TEACHES US
Box turtles need specialized care for decades. Learn what a reptile needs before bringing one home.

Meet all our ambassadors

Our ambassadors live in our permanent care and cannot survive in the wild. They help us teach people how to protect reptiles and the wild places they need.

Southeastern Reptile Conservation is a Virginia 501(c)(3) nonprofit, EIN 39-4578100. Donations are tax-deductible to the extent allowed by law.
southeastreptile.org | info@southeastreptile.org | @purringturtle